

Deborah E. Swain, PhD.

Courses Taught

NC Central University, Durham, NC (School of Library and Information Sciences)

- CIS 4600 – Systems Analysis – Undergraduates
- LSIS 4010 – Information Systems in Organizations (Foundations)
- LSIS 5110 – Information Systems Policy and Strategy
- LSIS 5171 – Systems Analysis and Logical Design
- LSIS 5460 – Knowledge Based Systems (Decision Support and Expert Systems)
- LSIS 5610 – Integrated Project Management (Capstone Course)
- LSIS 5820 – Metadata Analysis (Business Intelligence and Digital Library Development)
- LSIS 5750 – Knowledge Management (Special Topics Seminar)
- LSIS 5750 – Diversity in the Context of Library as Place (Team Teaching IMLS Scholars Seminar)
- LSIS 5700 – Independent Study

UNC-Chapel Hill (School of Information and Library Science)

- INLS 110 – Project Management
- INLS 162 – Systems Analysis

NC State University

- ENG 321 – Business Communication and Technical Writing
- ENG 208 – Studies in Fiction
- ENG 110 – Freshman Composition
- ENG 111 and 111x – Reading and Composition

Campbell University

- CIS 235 – Internet Business Applications
- CIS 250 – Visual Basic Programming
- CIS 351 – Systems Analysis
- CIS 420 – Data Communications and Networks
- CIS 452 – CIS Management
- CIS 462 – Information Systems Design Project
- CIS 480 – A+ Certification/Professional Development
- CIS 125 – Introduction to Computers
- ENG 201-2 – American Literature I and II
- ENG 203 – British Literature I

Wake Technical Community College, Raleigh, NC

- Introduction to Computers
- Word Processing

Corporate Training for IBM, AT&T, Lucent Technologies/Bell Labs

- Writing Use Cases for Software Products
- Introduction to Knowledge-Based Systems (AI and Expert Systems)
- The Software Engineering Process
- Indexing Documentation and Online Help
- Business and Technical Writing/Editing